

Architectural drawing showing a floor plan of a building. The plan includes a large open area, a central core with rooms, and a series of stairs and doorways. The drawing is oriented vertically on the page.